

LEARNING TO DEFUSE AND RESOLVE WORKPLACE EMOTION

In this workshop, there is a section focusing on the main negative emotions at the workplace - anger, frustration, stress and worry. These are common emotions we feel from time to time. If uncontrolled, they can quickly escalate into guilt, verbal abuse and even physical violence. Yet interestingly, uncontrolled anger and frustration are almost taboo subjects. Most of us get very little advice or guidance in our society on how to handle or manage them. Is anger or frustration a terrible thing? Not if you understand that negative emotions are actually signals or messages that indicate to us that something is not right in our lives and we need to change or to take action, otherwise the pain remains.

By attending this life changing course, you will be provided with effective techniques for controlling, managing and overcoming your negative emotions particularly anger, frustration, stress and worry. Learn how to avoid situations that create them, overcoming and eliminating these intense emotions.

TARGET AUDIENCE

For anyone in need of managing their emotional well-being to become more productive at work. It is recommended for ALL personnel and staff who would like to learn how emotions affect performance at work, how to use practical and effective strategies to manage emotions in difficult situations.
